Lt. General Vernon Walters
Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear General Walters:

There have been considerable changes in each of our lives since you so kindly entertained me during my visit to [REDACTED]

STAT [REDACTED]
STAT Subsequently, both my wife and I were inspired by your STAT counsel prior to my assignment as [REDACTED] I particularly remember the STAT day at the Attache School in Anacostia as you discussed with [REDACTED] and me your hopes for the post in Paris.

STAT A belated congratulations on your present distinguished assignment. It seems particularly appropriate to be writing this letter on President Nixon's Inauguration Day; as my assignment prior to [REDACTED] I know well of your experiences there.

STAT I retired from the Army over a year ago, am living in Central Florida, and am happily associated with an energetic developer as his executive assistant.
STAT My daughter, [REDACTED] is in her senior semester at [REDACTED] majoring in Latin American studies. She is the young lady you offered to take under your care should she encounter difficulties while touring Europe with her high school choir. STAT

STAT [REDACTED] wishes to aim her career toward Latin America. I have advised her to STAT consider the Agency first as, based on my observations, both the personnel and operations are of the highest order. My outpost in [REDACTED] doesn't provide information on your recruiting. I, therefore, am imposing on our acquaintance to ask that you have someone contact her with a view to employment counseling.
To assist in this, I have attached a few pertinent details as seen through the eyes of a loving father.

General Walters, one of my particular motivations in writing this letter to you is that, although our contacts were brief, your enthusiasm for and empathy with the Latin enhanced my attitudes in a most direct and positive way. It is a matter of pride that my daughter has also developed an interest in these warm people and interesting areas. I wish to encourage this and will appreciate any guidance you or your Agency might give her.

Sincerely,

STAT
